

Help Wanted: Earth Week Guides for 1st graders in Madison Meadow

Lead small groups of Adams School first graders on a walk in Madison Meadow. Multiple time slots are available the week of April 22-26. Parents and teachers will be on hand. Your interest in helping kids enjoy nature is more important than your in-depth knowledge of the meadow. Contact: info@madisonmeadow.org.

SPRING, 2019

Did you know that a dead tree can provide more habitat than a living one? Last summer Scott Altenhoff, the City Urban Forester, volunteered his time to "snag" the dead Douglas fir on the south border of Madison Meadow—creating a high-rise hotel for wildlife. Please take a look, and watch for woodpeckers!
